HARDING HIGH SCHOOL TABLET UNVEILING SOON

Board Places Arrangements in Hands of School Men.

ENROLLMENT FIGURES
FOR FIRST DAY, 5,121

Schools Will Be Dismissed One Day for Fair—New Textbooks Adopted.

Enrollment in the Marion city schools for Monday, the first day of school, totaled 5,121, according to figures compiled by Dr. H. R. McVay, superintendent of schools, and presented at an adjourned meeting of the board of education Monday night in the Harding High school building. Action of a caucus of the board in selecting a number of grade teachers was ratified. Miss Verna E. King was elected to be assigned as commercial teacher in the Harding High school and the superintendent of schools and principal of the high school were selected to choose a suitable site for the location of the Harding bronze tablet, purchased by the graduating class of 1921 and arranged for an unveiling ceremony.

In the three grades of the High school, as constituted this year with the sophomore, junior and senior classes, there were 561 pupils enrolled yesterday, as compared with 511 enrolled in those grades after the first few days of last year.

Mr. Marshall stated he expects this number to be increased at least twenty-five within a few days and that when all have enrolled he expects the total to be close to 700.

Enrollment in the junior high and departmental grades totaled 1,306 and in the grades from the first to the seventh, 3,276. On the third day of school last year there were 4,101 enrolled in the first eight grades as against 4,570 in those grades this year, making an increase of 469.

Enrollment by schools shows in the Central Junior High school, 623; Vernon Heights, 298; Davis, 114; Forest Lawn, 311; Glenwood, 425; Greenwood, 222; Lincoln, 217; Mark, 240; Oak, 258; Oakland Heights, 428; Olney, 273; Pearl, 325; Silver, 492; and State 216.

On Constitution Day. It was suggested that the large bronze tablet commemorating the change in the name of the high school be unveiled on Constitution day Friday, but the time for the ceremony was left to the superintendent and principal. The tablet bears the words:

"This tablet was erected by the class of 1921 to commemorate the changing of the name of this school to Harding High school in honor of Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States."

Teachers elected by ratification of the board caucus are Mrs. Anne H. Sutherland, David V. Scheld, Alwyn H. Crane, Miss Muriel V. Freeland, Miss Mildred Matkovich, Miss Dorothy Foster and Rosena Hoxser. Requisitions were allowed, including five new typewriters for the commercial department and six unabridged dictionaries for the High school. Properly approved bills were ordered paid.

One Day or Fair.

The board voted to close the schools Friday, September 23, in order to permit the school children to attend the county fair.

The recommendation of the textbook committee for books for grades in the junior high school was adopted. These books include "Junior Science," by Hessler, published by Benjamin J. Sauerborn & Company; "Occupations," by Goss & Wheatley, published by Ginn & Company; "The Girl and Her Job" by Horrie & Saltzberg, published by Henry Holt & Company; "Introduction to American History," by Woodman & Moran, published by Longman, Green & Company; "Household Arts for Home and School, Volumes I and II," by Cooley & Spahr, published by Macmillan & Company.

These are to become regular texts and purchased by the pupils when needed. The committee's recommendation also included the purchase of 200 copies of "Morals and Manners" or high school etiquette by the board in order that a set of these books be sent to each high school and made a part of the instruction of the pupils.

CAUCUS HOUR ON SEWER EXPERT, NO AGREEMENT

Council Then Adjourns To Meet
Thursday Night.

SALES OF THE VARIOUS BOND ISSUES APPROVED

Numbers of Taps into Sewers
Regulated by Ordinance—A
New Addition Accepted.

The sales of several bonds issued by the finance committee of council were approved at the regular meeting of council, Monday night. The approvals were on the $75,000 issue for street improvements, the $104,875 extension bonds, $51,425 for corporation's portion, $100,000 sewage disposal bonds and $48,913 street improvement bonds.

An ordinance was adopted amending an ordinance passed February 22, 1921, so that the interest on bonds sold to the sum of $48,913 to the state industrial commission is to be payable at the office of the state treasurer in Columbus.

The city auditor was directed by resolution to present a statement of the financial condition of the city as of February 1, 1921. The statement has been completed by the auditor and is ready for the attention of council.

An ordinance was adopted regulating the number of houses or buildings that may be connected into one sewer tap. The ordinance provides that not more than one connection be made into one tap unless the same is a private garage or an outbuilding of a similar nature on the same lot. A violation of the ordinance is punishable by a fine of not to exceed $50.

Marion Heights. An ordinance approving Marion Heights addition to the city in the name of C. S. Lippincott was read three times and adopted.

The ordinance accepting J. W. Thew's addition to the city was given the second reading. The second reading was also given the resolution granting the Erie Local Federation No. 7, to string a banner across north Main street.

A petition for three lights on Taylor street between Van Buren street and Fairground street was referred to the lighting committee.

The members of council held a caucus for an hour on the matter of employing an expert engineer to go over the plans of the newly proposed sewer system. No agreement being reached on the subject council adjourned to meet Thursday evening.

AN INSPECTION PLAN FOR STATE

Intended To Save Ohio Many Thousands Each Year.

ELIMINATION OF ALL DUPLICATION IN WORK

Is Sought by Governor Davis in New Scheme.

Governor Would Put the Whole Inspection Service Under One Head—A Well Co-Ordinated System Is Sought.

Columbus, Sept. 13.—Announcement that, effective Thursday, all state inspection of Ohio bakeries will be made under the direction of the dairy and food division, state agricultural department, was made today by Governor Davis. This new policy, it is claimed, will save the state over $10,000 annually.

For years this work has been duplicated, inspectors in that part of the state government now directed by State Director of Industrial Relations Tellow having performed this work as well as those employed by the dairy-and-food division.

This new plan, according to Director Tellow, will result immediately in the dismissal of three inspectors in his department whose combined salaries total $8,400 a year. Traveling expenses, raised the state's expenditures in connection with employment of these three inspectors, to over $10,000 annually.

A plan of operating all state inspection under a well-coordinated system, which would save the state many thousands of dollars a year and insure much better inspection, is being considered by Governor Davis, it was announced.

"Governor Davis is figuring on the possibility of putting the whole inspection service under one head, systematizing it and eliminating all duplication," said Director Tellow. "The governor is considering the advisability of organizing the state into inspection districts and having the inspectors reside and work in those districts so as to cut down the high traveling cost. By the same method, the governor has become convinced that the number of inspectors can be materially reduced and a great amount saved in salaries."

To Avoid a Probe.
Washington, Sept. 13.—Renewed pressure by the West Virginia operators to prevent the senate committee appointed to investigate the West Virginia mine war from going at this time to the scene of the recent civil war in that state, awaited Senator Kenyon, Republican, the committee chairman, upon his return here, today.

To Pre-War Prices.
Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 13.—A reduction to pre-war levels was announced here today by the National Cattle company on sugar waters, etc., in packages. Prices on the whole line of bulk variety are further reduced from two to five cents a pound.

On Retired List.

Newark, Sept. 13.—Dr. C. L. Williams, nationally known in college circles and for twenty-eight years professor of English at Denison university, was placed on the retired list yesterday by the faculty, at a pension of two-thirds of his salary.

Yes
it's toasted, of course. To seal in the flavor—

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY IS ABOARD MAYFLOWER

Will Return to Washington on a Leisurely Cruise.

New York, Sept. 13.—President Harding and his vacation party today boarded the yacht, Mayflower, at the Brooklyn navy yard and cruised through the sound to a wharf near the Piping Rock golf club on Long Island, where the president spent the morning at his favorite sport. He had as opponents Senator Joseph P. Frelinhuysen of New Jersey; Henry P. Fletcher, under secretary of state and Dr. Albert Ely, a friend of the New Jersey senator.

Sometime today the president planned to return to the Mayflower and start to Washington in a leisurely cruise.

The president enjoyed a theater party here and was greeted by many, though there were no large crowds at his visit was a surprise.

The president revealed he would be back in Washington by Friday, but further than that would not disclose his plans.

REAL MEDICAL SCIENCE LOST

In Soldiers' Health Bureau in Washington.

DECLARATION OF DR. HAVEN EMERSON

Physician and Medical Advisor of Federal Bureau Addresses Conference.

Columbus, Sept. 13.—"Plumbers and policemen are being substituted for scientific medical men in the soldiers' bureau at Washington," declared Dr. Haven Emerson, medical adviser of the bureau addressing the Mississippi Valley conference on tuberculosis, in session here.

Colonel Robert U. Patterson, army medical corps, will succeed Dr. Emerson, resigned, Thursday as the bureau's medical adviser. Colonel Patterson was formerly chief of the medical personnel of the American Red Cross.

Claiming $500,000 a year in salaries is being unnecessarily distributed for political patronage, Dr. Emerson declared that the bureau, taken away from the public health service, is being handled like a political organization.

Dr. Emerson, who recently conducted a health survey in Cleveland, formerly was health commissioner in New York City.

More generous provision for the study of tuberculosis, including permanent foundations affiliated with teaching hospitals, was urged by Dr. Allan K. Krause, editor of the American Review of Tuberculosis and director of Dow's foundation for tuberculosis research of Johns Hopkins medical school.

Victory Predicted.
Columbus, Sept. 13.—At each session of the ninth annual Mississippi valley conference on tuberculosis here, defeat of the white plague was predicted by a score of delegates.

Dr. Walter McNab Miller of St. Louis, president of the organization, declared that absolute control of the dreaded disease would be a reality within the next decade. He stated the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced one-third in the past ten years, and predicted that it would continue to decrease rapidly in the coming years. The cause of the decline Dr. Miller attributes largely to educational work, particularly among school children.

Figures reported by the delegates from the eleven states represented at the conference show a marked decline over those of 1919, which was 125.5 for each 100,000 persons. Officials say the decrease has been constant for ten years, except during 1917 and 1918, when it increased. There were about 30,000 deaths from tuberculosis last year, statistics show, out of a population of approximately 35,000,000, and it is estimated that there are now over 300,000 active cases.

Dr. R. G. Patterson, secretary of the Ohio Public Health association, reported the death rate for Ohio decreased from 150 per 100,000 population in 1910 to 101 in 1929. There were 5,844 deaths from the disease in Ohio in 1929, as against more than 7,000 in 1910. Dr. M. H. presided at this meeting.

Dr. Haven Emerson, medical adviser of the veteran's bureau at Washington and formerly health commissioner of New York City, declared that every man, woman and child, whether well or ill, should have a thorough medical examination at regular intervals.

Tony A. Bruno a Bankrupt.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States district court at Toledo today by Tony A. Bruno, through Attorney L. F. Myers. He lists his liabilities as $71,444 and his assets at $2,450. He has been engaged in the fruit commission business.

WITNESSES ARE NOW DODGING

Charged Undue Influence Is Being Brought.

DEVELOPMENTS IN ARBUCKLE CASE

One Girl Witness May Face a Perjury Charge—Another Is Missing When Wanted.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—Fresh sensations outliving even the shock of the announcement that Rosemary "Fatty" Arbuckle, the champion heavy-weight laugh producer of the movies, had been charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Rappe, featured the developments of the case today.

Of first magnitude was the charge made by District Attorney Matthew Brady that "undue influence and pressure of a sinister character" has been brought to bear on the witnesses of the case. This charge was followed by the announcement that Alice Blake, one of the show girls who attended the party given by Arbuckle at which Miss Rappe was seized with the illness that resulted in death and the bringing of the murder charge against Arbuckle, has disappeared. In addition, Brady declared that Zey Pryon, another show girl also in attendance at the party, had changed her story and faces possible arrest on a charge of perjury. The Pryon girl was taken from the grand jury room to her home under guard of a detective.

The district attorney said her arrest "depended on further developments."

It was reported an investigation was under way to determine the source of a ticket to Alhambra alleged to have been found in the Pryon girl's possession.

The grand jury adjourned at an early hour this morning without action on the indictment against Arbuckle charging murder, which is sought by the district attorney. It was decided to give the prosecutor further time to present additional evidence. The long session of the inquisitorial body, beginning early last evening, was replete with sensations. Arbuckle, himself, was called before the grand jury and refused to testify.

The fallouts of the movies, tired from a day of unusual strain during which he had undergone all the routine of the criminal procedure from arrest to arraignment, went to sleep early last night and at 1 o'clock this morning was roused with difficulty from a sound slumber to appear before the grand jury.

Dressing hastily, he was taken by detectives directly from the jail to the grand jury room. Perspiration poured from his face as he answered in a low tone when asked by the foreman of the grand jury to give his version of the St. Francis party.

"My attorneys have advised me to say nothing at this time," he said. He was led back to his cell, the district attorney and his attaches excluded from the grand jury room and that body settled down to consideration of the testimony.

Behind Closed Doors.
For nearly an hour they talked over the case behind closed doors. The foreman, Clifford Curtis, emerged and announced "It was thought best to take no vote on an indictment tonight. We consider it best to give District Attorney Brady more time in which to secure certain information which we desire. We did not set a date for the resumption of the grand jury investigation."

It was following this statement from Foreman Curtis regarding "certain information" desired by that body that District Attorney Brady made his charge of witness tampering.

"We have sent Miss Zey Pryon home under surveillance. The girl changed her story completely before the grand jury. Whether or not we shall arrest her and charge her with perjury will depend on further developments."

"I am convinced that undue influence and pressure of a sinister character has been brought to bear on her and other witnesses, one of whom, Alice Blake, has mysteriously disappeared from her home in Berkeley. We have been unable to find her."

"In view of these efforts to thwart the ends of justice, the investigation will proceed and no effort will be spared to bring the guilty ones to their just deserts."

"Whenever wealth and influence are brought to the bar of justice, every sinister and corrupt practice is used in an effort to free the accused. It is always easy to convict a poor man. The wealthy malefactor are the ones who find means of using their wealth to advantage."

New witnesses were heard by the grand jury during its long session.

The Central Figure.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Bessie Maude Delmont, who swore to the complaint charging Rosemary "Fatty" Arbuckle with the murder of Miss Virginia Rappe, strikingly beautiful girl—entertainment actress—died today as the central figure in the starting drama. Mrs. Delmont

A WARNING GIVEN IMMIGRATION PEOPLE

Agitation Is Endangering All Immigration.

Washington, Sept. 13.—A warning that continued agitation and opposition to the present three-percent immigration law might induce congress to shut off immigration altogether, was sounded today by Secretary of Labor Davis.

"The organized attempt to discredit the three-percent law will have the effect of still further tightening this law," he said, "and it may eventually induce congress to restrict all immigration."

"President Harding was right," continued Davis, "when he told Representative Sierel of New York that the difficulty with the present law must be charged to dishonest steamship agents who have brought to this country innocent immigrants despite our continued warnings during a period of great leniency."

"We are doing everything possible to uphold the hands of congress in making this three-percent law workable."

RAILROADS HEARD ON FREIGHT RATES

Higher Rates for Hauling Coal in Ohio Are Demanded.

Columbus, Sept. 13.—Fifteen Ohio railroads appeared at the interstate commerce commission at a hearing here for an order authorizing them to charge freight rates on coal 40 percent in excess of the present rates.

Opposing the appeal are the state of Ohio, through its public utilities commission, and Ohio coal companies.

Counsel for the carriers asserted that the rates fixed by the Ohio commission give Ohio shippers of coal an unfair advantage over shippers in other states. The railroads are being supported in their fight to increase Ohio rates by coal operators in West Virginia and Kentucky. It was further claimed that as a result of the Ohio commission's order the railroads are not receiving the revenue to which they are entitled under the interstate commerce act.

The hearing is in connection with an appeal of the 15 carriers from a decision of the Ohio utilities commission forbidding the railroads to put into effect on coal rates the last 40 percent freight rate increase allowed by the federal commission.

REV. J. C. GERLACH IS TO LEAVE THIS CITY

Rev. H. C. Beyer, of Cleveland, His Successor.

Rev. J. C. Gerlach, pastor of the Prospect Street M. E. church, returned today from Santa Claus, Indiana, where he attended the annual conference of the Central Church. Rev. Gerlach has been sent to Dayton, where he will have charge of a pastorate. He will be succeeded here by Rev. H. C. Beyer, who comes from St. Paul's Methodist church, Cleveland.

Rev. Mr. Gerlach will deliver his farewell sermon next Sunday and will move his family the last of next week to Dayton. The next conference will be held in Indianapolis.

RED OFFICIALS SLAIN IN AN INSURRECTION

Rising Against Soviet Authorities in White Russia.

London, Sept. 13.—White Russia is the scene of an insurrection against the soviet authorities, says a Warsaw dispatch. The trouble began, it is said, as a result of forcible food levies by the Bolsheviks. The inhabitants of this section of Russia fought to protect their supplies, and the insurrection is declared to be spreading. Bolshevik commissaries are being constantly murdered, the dispatch declares, and the soviet authorities are fighting the insurrection by all possible means, there being a number of mass executions reported.

CHURCH SOCIETY

Of Interest Here.
This from the Columbus Dispatch of Saturday will be interesting to the Marion friends of Dr. C. R. Havighurst and family of Columbus: "Harold C. Havighurst, son of Rev. C. R. Havighurst, pastor of the First M. E. church, and Mrs. Havighurst, who has just returned from an extensive bicycle tour of Europe, will occupy the pulpit of First M. E. church on Bryden Road Sunday morning at 10:30. His trip took him through several European countries, including the war-devastated areas. He will tell his experiences and give his observations and impressions of European life."

THE RAILROADS
A. Ziebold, general car foreman for the Hocking Valley, out of Columbus, is in Marion today on business.

A. E. Wallace, manager of the Chicago branch of the Erie out of Chicago, arrived in Marion at noon today on train No. 225.

Erie train No. 1 last night had two coaches bearing bodies of soldiers bound for Chicago.

C. F. McKinnis, of mechanical department of the Erie out of Youngstown, arrived here last night and will probably spend the rest of the week here.

J. J. Kuhn, superintendent of the steamers at Cleveland for the Erie, is in Marion today on business.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born Monday night to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Weaver, No. 578 Darius street.

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fletcher, of Blaine avenue.

Because the railroads of Australia are not of uniform gauge the governments of Queensland and New South Wales are experimenting with cars with adjustable wheels.

GLIMPSES INTO COURT-ROOM

Where West Virginia Men Are on Trial for Murder.

STATE POLICE AND MILITIA ON GUARD

Women Entering Court-Room Searched for Weapons—No Chances Being Taken.

Court-House, Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 13.—Even women were searched for weapons before they were permitted to enter the court-room where, with state police and militia on guard, today, Reese Chambers and Fred Burgrat, union miners and mountaineers, face a fight for their lives, charged with murder in connection with the death of J. W. Ferguson, who was killed in the bloody battle of Matewan, a year ago, with six other Baldwin-Felts detectives, following attempts to evict striking miners' families from company houses.

So critical is the situation, Major Thomas B. Davis, state military commander of Mingo county, under martial law, has ordered no chances be taken, Judge Bailey, presiding at the trial, today announced that hereafter no bail will be permitted persons arrested on charges growing out of the war between the union miners on one side and the coal operators and state forces on the other.

Mrs. Ed Chambers sits in the court-room with her father-in-law, Reese Chambers. Her husband, who was killed last August, was one of the chief defendants in the first "trigger trial."

Dressed in modish mourning attire that might come from a Fifth avenue shop, the mountain woman young and beautiful, with dark hair and black eyes that flash with resentment or turn cold with anger, has given concern to officials.

She has vowed to avenge the death of her husband. She carried a blue silk umbrella into the court-room.

When searched by the state police guarding the entrance of the court-houses, she said, with a smile, pointing to the umbrella:

"That's a weapon. It's the one I used on Lively's head."

The woman referred to C. E. Lively, once union confidant, now alleged to be a Baldwin-Felts detective, who, it is declared, shot down her husband in the court-house yard at Welch, West Virginia, at the same time Sid Hatfield was killed. She made brave efforts to save her husband, witnesses say, and fayed Lively with her umbrella.

VIEWING SCENE.
Court-House, Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 13.—With an escort of state police, judge, jury, attorneys and defendants in the second "trigger trial" went to Matewan, today, to visit the scene where seven Baldwin-Felts detectives were killed in May, 1929, in a running battle with striking union miners and their sympathizers—one of the bloodiest fights in all the history of "bloody Mingo."

The little mountain settlement, heretofore one of the most turbulent in turbulent Mingo county, was as quiet as a church when the jurors arrived. It looked a peaceful, uneventful village sleeping among the hills in beautiful Tug river valley.

Strict martial law now prevails in Matewan. State police and militia are in control at the point of the bayonet; peace reigns.

There is a crowd of order in Matewan under martial law. Only two persons may walk or talk together on the street. More than two constitute "unlawful assembly," so the streets were almost deserted, except for the guards, when the jurors entered the town.

Judge and jury visited the jewelry and drug store where "Snelling Sid" Hatfield used to reside and where the battle began.

On a counter behind the soda fountain lay a .44-caliber revolver with its coil nose pointed at the court.

It was Sid Hatfield's revolver. Above it stood a photograph of Sid, with his cool, smiling eyes looking down on the scene. His widow and his brother-in-law now run the store.

The battle was witnessed for the jurors as they went from spot to spot now historical, in Matewan, for the events which took place on that memorable May day.

They saw where J. W. Ferguson fell with six bullets in his body. Reese Chambers and Fred Burgrat, defendants in the second "trigger trial" charged with Ferguson's slaying, stood without displaying interest as the detective's death was described.

The jurors were taken to the railroad station where Sid Hatfield and others were charged with throwing the dead bodies of the detectives into a baggage car and piled their guns on top of their corpses. Sid was chief of police at Matewan.

They saw the grocery store where one of the thirteen detectives who had come to evict the striking miners' families from coal company houses concealed himself in a sugar barrel, during the battle and hid there for nearly eleven hours.

AN ALABAMA FIRE.
Russellville, Alabama, Sept. 13.—Russellville's business district is today a mass of smoldering ruins. Fire which is believed to have broken out in the basement of a barber shop swept through the principal business section and completely destroyed or badly damaged seven business houses before it was finally subdued. Property damage is estimated at more than $200,000.

A Mass-Meeting.
Chicago, Sept. 13.—Shop employees of the railroads centering in Chicago and nearby towns will be told whether a strike is impending by Free Labor B. M. Jewell, of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, at a mass-meeting to be held here next Sunday afternoon. A call for the mass-meeting was sent out today.

BASKET-BALL LEAGUE FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

Representatives Hold Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Building.

A meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night for the representatives of the different Sunday-schools in town who were interested in forming a Sunday-school basketball league. There were fourteen representatives there from seven churches and rules and regulations were adopted at the meeting.

Charles D. Hildebrand, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., presided at the meeting. After organizing, the league elected Marshall Palford, president; Stanley McCormick, secretary, and W. C. Bryant, publicity man. Mr. Hildebrand, in an address to the members of the league, advised that the league appoint a board of governors of three men who were acquainted with basketball to act as an appellate court over any dispute that might arise. The league has set the first Monday in November as a date for the opening of their season. One of the regulations adopted was that the members of the various teams must pay a registration fee for each of the eight members they are allowed on their teams and that any change of personnel of the team must be reviewed and approved by the board of governors. Players must have attended Sunday-school previous to playing on the team and two absences disqualify a player until re-instated by having attended two Sundays successfully. Practice by the various teams begins today.

RICHWOOD VILLAGE AND TOWN MARSHAL SUED

W. C. Longfellow Wants $10,000 for False Arrest.

Suit for $10,000 damages for alleged false imprisonment was filed in the Union county common pleas court Monday afternoon by William C. Longfellow against the village of Richwood and Samuel Joffit, village marshal. The petition was filed through Gerhart & Warner.

Longfellow alleges that August 21, the marshal arrested him without a warrant and confined him in the village prison from 4 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening. He states he is engaged in the barber business at Richwood, has a wife and five children and claims the alleged false arrest humiliated him in the eyes of his fellow citizens, disgraced his family and injured his business.

MAY IMPORT WOOLLENS FOR AMERICAN USE
Company Claims Woolens Are Cheaper in Europe.

Boston, Sept. 13.—The American Woolen company may import manufactured goods from Germany and other European countries where costs are lower than in the mills here. President William M. Wood, on his return from a trip to Europe, said he expected a report within a day or two covering this possibility from Chester L. Dace, president of the American Woolen Products company, a subsidiary, who has just completed an independent investigation of conditions abroad.

"Exportation of manufactured wools from the United States is out of the question under existing economic conditions," Mr. Wood said. "With this in mind, Mr. Dace went abroad to study European conditions and see what could be done to keep his organization alive. It must be realized that Europe, especially Germany, is making goods at costs far below ours. Trade follows the price, not the flag. These products are going to come to this country anyway."

A Quick Trip.
R. L. Baker and William Cooper flew from Kenton to Marion this morning in a Standard biplane, making the trip in twenty-two minutes and landing on the Guchery farm, five miles west of town. The men will be here till Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when they will fly to Russell's Point, where they have been flying this summer.

CONSTITUTION DAY SATURDAY

President Harding Writes Letter Regarding Observance.

DAY MARKS REAL BIRTH OF THE NATION

Trying Times of Last Seven Years Give American Constitution a Supreme Test.

New York, Sept. 13.—President Harding, in endorsing the national observance of Constitution day, next Saturday, has written to the Constitutional League of America that "no governmental system has demonstrated a greater capacity to meet and bear the utmost stresses of human crisis than our own."

The league yesterday made public the president's letter as follows: "It is a pleasure to address a word of greeting and encouragement to those who will unite this year in celebrating Constitution day, September 17. I have always thought of Constitution day as marking the real birth of our nation."

"The trying times of the last seven years have supremely tested the governmental systems of all the world, and I feel that we of America may well felicitate ourselves and give thanks to Divine Providence, that in this test no governmental system has demonstrated a greater capacity to meet and bear the utmost stresses of human crisis than our own. This knowledge can not but cheer us as we look to the future, with its many and difficult problems still to be met."

"Once more, we may remind ourselves that the constitution is strong enough for every requirement, elastic enough to adapt itself to changing conditions and developing conditions. So on this anniversary we may well dedicate ourselves to the supreme purpose of maintaining our institutions under it, and of making them in the future, as they have been in the past, a beacon light to illumine the way of progress for men seeking freedom everywhere."

Governors of forty-two states have agreed to co-operate in the celebration Saturday. In many cities historical pageants are to be presented by patriotic societies, the league reports.

Among organizations that have agreed to observe the occasion are the Sons of American Revolution, American Federation of Labor, American Legion, General Federation of Women's Clubs, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Y. M. C. A., Order of the Eastern Star, Daughters of the American Revolution, Jewish Welfare Board, National Security League, Federal council of Churches of Christ in America and the Grand Lodge of Masons of New York.

GAS WILL BE SHUT OFF THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

From 12 O'Clock Noon to 5 P. M., It's Announced.

GAS COMPANY ISSUES WARNING TO CONSUMERS

Don't Forget Hot Tank and Don't Forget To Close All Valves.

M. A. Mickley, manager of the Marion Gas company, today announced that the gas in the city would be shut off Thursday and Friday of this week, from 12 o'clock noon to 5 p. m. to make repairs on the gas mains.

The company warns patrons to be sure and turn off the gas before going away or leaving the premises and also to turn off all valves when the gas goes out and leave them turned off until the gas is turned on again, to avoid any accidents.

Patrons are especially warned to attend to the hot water tank.

Notices of later dates or changes in the dates for the turning off of the gas will appear in the papers in ample time for users to prepare for this emergency, Mr. Mickley said today.

CORONER COMES HERE TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS

Latest Step in Probe of Marionite's Death.

Coroner Arthur Hall, of Forest, will go to Marion Tuesday to take the deposition of Mrs. Devenney, widow of Sylvan L. J. Devenney, fifty-seven, Erie freight conductor, of that city, who died a few minutes after he had left the home of Jacob Michaels, reported "faith healer," in Forest a week ago last Saturday.

The trip to Marion to get the widow's deposition is one of the final steps in the investigation being conducted by the county coroner.

An official verdict on the cause of the death of Devenney may be expected soon, according to the coroner. It was the opinion of physicians who conducted an autopsy that Devenney died from leakage of the heart.—Kenton News-Republican.

AUTOGRAPHS OF MANY NOTABLES ON QUILT

Twill Be Sold for Charity by Whatsoever Circle.

HARDING FRONT-PORCH AUTOGRAPH QUILT NAME

Mrs. Harding Herself Suggests Idea When Asked for Signature—Description of Quilt.

The "Harding Front Porch" autograph quilt, which has just been completed by the members of the Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters, was displayed at the first meeting of the season of the circle Monday evening at the home of Miss Alice Crow, of South Prospect street.

The quilt is a beautiful pink and white spread, the blocks forming a very attractive design. The white blocks are autographed with the names of President and Mrs. W. G. Harding and many of their prominent visitors at the front porch during the presidential campaign of a year ago.

Mrs. Harding's idea. The idea of the autograph quilt was suggested by Mrs. Harding. She and President Harding had been asked for their signatures, to be embroidered on a quilt. Mrs. Harding not only suggested the securing of other autographs, but she had many of the prominent visitors at the Harding home write their names up little quilt blocks furnished her by the little quilt blocks furnished her by the circle. These signatures were afterwards outlined by the members and pink patches filled in among the autographed white ones, to form a pretty design.

Fifty-three names appear on the quilt, among them being those of President Harding and two former presidents, William Howard Taft and Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Wilson, Vice President, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, all the members of the cabinet, many senators; three members of the peace conference, Elihu Root, Henry Cabot Lodge and Charles E. Hughes; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university; Sidney Spitzer, of Toledo, one of the most prominent bankers in the country; Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, many other well-known authors, moving-picture stars, actresses and other prominent visitors.

Made by Members. Miss Mary Leonard furnished the blocks for the quilt, which was made by the members. It is scalloped around the edges and bound. The circle had it quilted by the Ladies' society, of the English Lutheran church, and the quilting is beautifully done by hand. The quilt will be placed on exhibition in one of the store windows. It will be sold and the money received from it will go into a fund to provide a charity ward in the City hospital. The circle has already received a $100 bid for it, but other bids will be considered before it is disposed of.

The circle opened the season last evening with a social meeting and after the transaction of business, Miss Mary Leonard gave a report of the group convention at Ada in June. The state convention call was read, the convention to be held at Clyde, October 4-6.

State Home Opening. It was announced that the King's daughters state home for girls at Bucyrus will be opened in a short time and that a formal opening will be held October 7, thus giving the delegates an opportunity to stop at Bucyrus and inspect the home and every King's Daughter is urged to take advantage of this opening day to look over the building.

Plans were made for a rummage sale and also a bake sale to be held soon.

The circle will hold a sewing at the First Presbyterian church September 20 and a supper will be served at that time.

Total Valuation of Property $80,004,160

Marion county's tax duplicate for 1921, just compiled in the office of County Auditor B. C. Decker, shows a total valuation of all property of $80,004,160, as against a valuation of $79,395,750 in 1920. This is an increase of $608,410 over last year, as compared with increases in previous years amounting to $2,500,000 to $3,000,000.

In the city of Marion the valuation shows an increase of $1,526,430 over last year, but most of this is overcome by a decrease in the entire county of $1,295,150 in chattel property, including a drop of $569,250 in the value of livestock.

This decrease is attributed to the drop in the value of agricultural products and merchant's stocks, which, in addition to showing a decrease of value, were also much lower in volume than for some years. These returns on merchant's stocks are made as of January 1, and it is explained that on that date the prices were just starting on the downgrade and merchants were waiting for more stable conditions before replenishing their stocks.

Valuation of utilities this year is placed at $12,594,120, as against $12,479,190 last year, an increase of $114,930. $38 and $50

WE know that there has never been such a remarkable Fall Suit Sale as this one. The interest and enthusiasm which has been shown the past week convinces us that this event is incomparable.

The Suits at $38

The rich fabrics included in this special group are the loveliest of the season. One may see Moussetyne, with its soft wool velvet finish, Veldyne, Moussetyne, Duvel and other leading materials in colors that are just as pretty as the fabrics.

Their graceful lines, together with the beautiful trimmings and linings make these Suits indeed exceptional at this low price.

Charming Models at $50

Some of the most interesting models of Fall will be found in this particular group. The jackets are almost knee length, some of them, and others are just a trifle shorter.

The luxurious trimmings of fur and embroidery, the beautiful silk linings and superior workmanship—all make these suits extremely beautiful in every respect.

EMERSON SOUGHT BERTH ON WRECKED ZR-2 SHIP

But Request Is Turned Down by Washington.

LONDON NEWSPAPERMAN WRITES PARENTS HERE

Does "Spade Work" on Job, Misses "Big Break"—Week with Officers and Crew.

A letter just received from George T. Emerson, Jr., newspaper man in London, and formerly a reporter on the Star, will be of interest to many Marionites. Mr. Emerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Emerson, of West Center street. His letter, addressed to his parents, follows in part:

"Of course you have been wondering just what I had to do with the ZR-2 disaster, especially after receiving the photographs I sent along the other day. Well, it was a mighty sad affair. I knew practically the whole of the American crew and they all passed out with one exception. It did give me a shock. I'll tell you all about it.

"I went up to Scarborough August 13, that was Saturday, there being some friends there with whom I put in the week-end. Then Monday I went over to Howden, the British airship station where the Americans were completing their training preparatory to taking the ZR-2 back to the States. The British were expected to complete their trials of the big ship the first day the weather was suitable, so at Howden, which is a little crossroads town not as large as Green Camp, I took up my vigil with some three or four other newspapermen, moving picture operators, etc. The weather each day seemed ideal—scarcely a breath of wind and skies as clear as crystal. But the British wouldn't bring the ship out. Reports had been printed that she was not quite up to expectations and that she would smash before they had passed her over to the Yanks and get the half million we were to pay for her. And it was a fact that on a previous trial flight she had sprung a girder or two which it was claimed had been repaired and strengthened and the whole ship made tight and airworthy.

"Watchful Waiting."
"In view of these representations we newspaper folks couldn't understand why the big 'airworthy' ship had to be nursed along, so to speak—why they had to be so extremely careful and wouldn't take the slightest chance with the weather. But we waited—and it was a wearying wait with nothing to do evenings and a very poor (and really dirty) little tumble-down hotel, the only place to spend your time. The food, too, was abominable—ham and eggs were all I could put down.

"One morning, after being out to the airframe, which is some two miles from the town, I was walking back to town, as it was a nice day and I needed the exercise. Suddenly a big limousine, swung past me and stopped a short way down the road. A uniformed man leaned out and motioned for me to come along. He was sitting in front with the chauffeur. He said, when I reached the car, 'I thought perhaps you'd care to ride into town.' I thanked him and got in. The car went along, but stopped again in a couple of hundred yards, and the uniformed man got down and came back into the inside of the car with me. We chatted very cordially on into town, about the airship, the weather, etc. I made myself known, but he didn't volunteer his name, which was not surprising, as his gold-branded sleeve and cap visor indicated that he was some one whom you should know if you didn't. I surmised who he was, but didn't know until next day that it was Commodore Maitland, head of the British airship service.

"Still Neckedness."
"It was a little incident which meant nothing in itself—if it occurred in the U. S. it would have been without moment—but over here big men, or men reckoned as big men, don't do that sort of thing. I thought it indicated a very unusual nature for England with its usual clinging to caste and its accustomed stiff-neckedness.

"Well, after nine days' waiting, on Tuesday, August 22, the ship did start out on what was to be her last trial at the hands of the British. The Yanks who were waiting there to take her over were a splendid lot—officers and men. During the week of time-killing I had there I got well acquainted with most of them—and they were twenty-two in all—clean-cut, bright, unassuming chaps.

"The start was made at about 7 A. M. I was at the airframe at 6 and had a cup of coffee with Lieutenant Esterly, who was the first American to be picked up, dead, after the disaster, and who was radio officer of the U. S. crew in his quarters just before the start. Several of the other lads were with us and they all chatted enthusiastically over the prospect of an early start on the long flight back to the States. I went out to the big shed with them, they got inside—and I told them I'd see them the next day down at Pulham, in Norfolk, where the ship was to make its start for the U. S. Maitland Remembers Reporter.

"As they were starting to take the great box out into the open, I found my friend Commodore Maitland down under his great belly, watching operations. He nodded to me and I walked over to him and we talked, he telling me just what was going on and why during the somewhat lengthy process of getting the ship safely out of the hangar and ready for the flight. When all was ready, he said, 'Now they're waiting for me—goodbye.' I said 'I'll hope to see you down at Pulham tomorrow.' He replied, 'Right—I'll be there,' and with a smile and wave of the hand he went slowly up the rope ladder hanging from the control car and disappeared inside.

"The ship cast off—and that was the last I or anyone else, on the ground, ever saw of any of them except the four chaps who got through—only one of them a Yank. 'Well, Tuesday afternoon I came back to London, stayed in London all night and the next morning went on down to Pulham, in Norfolk, by train. By the way, the town is not far from that famous city whose name every one has laughed at—Ipswich.

"And there there was a flock of U. S. newspapermen, camera men, etc.—all waiting for the ZR-2 to show up. We waited until about 5:30 when, in the radio office, I learned that a message had just come from the airship that she was not coming down to Pulham that night, but would put into Howden again at 8:30. I phoned this to my office in London, then took a motor over to a town called Diss where I could get a train for London, as there was no necessity for my staying in on in Pulham.

"But Got 'Atmosphere.'"
"It was at the railway station at Diss that I first heard the report that the ship had smashed up at Hull. I didn't believe it—I couldn't. I came on to London, a three hours' run, quite easy in my mind that nothing had occurred. But when I reached the office I found that it was only too true. Collins had started Mackenzie out by motor and King by train to Hull, so I had to stay here in the office and be of what assistance I could here. It was a rotten break of luck for me after having done all the 'spade work' on the story and then absent when the real yarn broke. But it would have been a most unpleasant job for me, having known the poor chaps who got blown up, mutilated and drowned.

"Now, that has been the only startling thing that has happened to me in a long while. Just now we are wondering whether civil war in Ireland between the Orangemen and Sinn Féilers, or another overthrow of the German government by Kaiser Kili's underlings, will be the next big bit of news. It's hard telling. "From the enclosed letter you will note that there had been some talk of sending me back to the U. S. on the ZR-2—I asked for the trip, in fact, and I shudder when I think that had I been given permission by Washington to make the transatlantic flight, in all probability I'd have been on this ill-fated trial spin! You never know when you're lucky in this life! I'm thankful for being counted out on this excursion."

VOCATIONAL TRAINING INAUGURATED IN MARION

With Opening of Schools Under Auspicious Conditions.

DIRECTOR BARTHOLOMEW PRAISED BY RIEGEL

State School Head Also Pays Compliment to Dr. McVay, Superintendent Here.

With shop equipment considered second to none in the state of Ohio vocational education was inaugurated in the Harding High school with the opening of school Monday under conditions which are considered by Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of schools, to mean that Marion soon will have the best industrial department in the state.

Mr. Riegel recently stated that the industrial department of the Sidney schools is the best in the state and he gave credit for this condition to Dr. H. R. McVay, who for years held a position as superintendent of the Sidney schools. He added that A. W. Bartholomew, director of vocational education in the Marion schools, had an important part in the development of the work at Sidney, acting in an advisory capacity, and predicted for the Marion school, under the direction of Dr. McVay and Mr. Bartholomew, an interesting and phenomenal growth which, within a comparatively short time, will develop the department into one of the best in the state.

Seventy-Five Want It.

Monday night Mr. Bartholomew stated that approximately seventy-five pupils already had expressed their desire to take up the course, which will be open to freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior high school boys. In addition to the shop work Mr. Bartholomew will teach pattern making and geometric and mechanical drawing and eventually it is his aim to inaugurate the plan of having junior and senior pupils put in a part of their time in the commercial shops of the city and also open night classes for the men in the shops. Mr. Bartholomew pointed out that this plan, provided in the Smith-Hughes law for federal aid for vocational education, has been endorsed by the National Association of Manufacturers. Mr. Bartholomew will be assisted by L. E. Walters, former manual training instructor in the High school.

A visit to the new shop in the Harding High school building presents an interesting sight. Mr. Bartholomew has purchased approximately $7,000 worth of equipment at a cost to the board of about $4,100 and the machinery and tools have been declared by the local manufacturers to be of the best obtainable.

Head This and See.

Included in the equipment are four Monarch quick change gear lathes, one quick change gear lathe and one Whipp shaper, purchased in Sidney; one latest model universal Cincinnati milling machine, one twenty-inch silver back geared drill press, one fourteen-inch U.S. sensitive drill, one power hack saw, one emery wheel tool grinder and twelve bench vices from the Western Tool & Manufacturing company, Springfield, together with the necessary small tool equipment, including Cleveland twist drills and milling cutters from the Barber Coleman company, Rockford, Illinois; milling cutters from the Gale-Sawyer company, Boston, Massachusetts; and milling cutters and milling machine tool equipment from the Shields Custer company, Cleveland.

Mr. Bartholomew stated that through the courtesy of small tool manufacturers, he had purchased from them cutter, drill and reamer equipment aggregating $1,100 for $130 and machine tool equipment, including the machines, aggregating $5,300 was purchased by him for $3,500.

Four of the lathes are set up on the south side of the shop, the milling machine and drills are to occupy places in the center, while the shaper and some other machinery will be placed on the north side of the room. Power for the operation of the machines will be supplied by two electric motors. Benches have been constructed along the east and south sides of the room and within a day or two the entire shop will be ready for operation.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to sincerely thank our neighbors and friends for their help, sympathy and machines for the lovely flowers, the singers and the minister, during the sickness and death of our baby, Willie Chester.

DAYS FOR REGISTRATION OR TRANSFER ANNOUNCED

Statement Given Out by Board of Elections.

The board of election, in a statement today, said the name of W. J. Wier, of Scott township, through mistake was not given out yesterday as one of the candidates for the county board of education. Since the publication of the candidates' names the name of S. H. Gast, of Prospect, has been withdrawn.

The days for registration or transfers for the November election will be Saturday, October 29 and Sunday, November 5. The registration, of course, only applies to the voters in the city and will be held in the regular voting precincts at the usual hours.

Any one that wishes to transfer or register and will not be in the city on either one of these two days may register or transfer any day between now and the first day of registration at the office of the board of elections in the Odd Fellows' temple on west Center street.

MENTOR BURDETTE GETS OUT FOOTBALL TIMBER

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL POSSIBILITIES ARE BIG

Letter Men Fill Both End Positions—It Looks Like Some Real Machine.

(KARL DOMBAUGH.)

Yesterday afternoon the would-be pickup pursuers of Harding High were called out by Coach Robert Burdette and under his tutelage were initiated into the mysteries of football. In other words, fall training has begun. A squad of about thirty, as reported for practice in the gymnasium and after being assigned uniforms they went on the field to learn a few important rudiments of the game. Little could be told as to the actual ability of the squad, but there seemed to be plenty of weight for the coach to whip up into shape.

Harding High's football possibilities appear very great this season. With the return of six valuable letter men to the squad this year and many others who have proved themselves worthy of a position on the varsity team during spring training season, Harding High stands a good chance of taking the North Central Ohio League championship. As the team at present stands there is only one doubtful position but there may be many changes before the team lines up for the season's first game.

On the line both end positions are filled by letter men tried and proved by a season's experience, both tackles are old hands at the game, one veteran guard is back, and the center has had a good deal of experience though he has never received a letter. It is estimated that the line will weigh something over one hundred and seventy pounds. This should prove a stone wall that no opposing high school could make any headway against.

In the backfield the quarter and fullback places are taken by men who have had some training in the hard school of experience. These men should prove valuable not only as players but as an aid to the two new halfbacks. At least one of the latter is considered quite a find, however.

What Coach Burdette can make of this aggregation remains to be seen. If he is as successful as he has been in the last two years and if he has the support of the entire student body he should put out a team that will give Harding High the most successful season of its athletic history. Although the schedule has not yet been announced a number of hard games are promised.

VELOCK ON SPORTS

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—With nineteen eastern, five western and four foreign players still in the running for the national tennis singles championship, plays will be resumed on the courts of the Germantown Cricket club at noon today, if the weather man permits.

The weather was favorable and under the present schedule the title will be decided Saturday.

What gave promise of being the most sensational match of the day was that between the youthful Vincent Richards and the wiry veteran from San Francisco—Billy Johnston. Johnston defeated Richards at Highbright prior to the Davis cup matches at Forest Hills but on encounter he suffered with perimelia has a noticeable handicap and Richards is figured to battle the former champion to a stubborn draw in their match today. Mayory and Lowe and Hawkes and Anderson were scheduled to lead off on the exhibition courts, today, at noon, with the Richard Johnston match slated for 2 o'clock and Tilden and Shimidzu scheduled to take the courts at 4 p. m. These were the feature matches of the third round.

WITH THE PUGS

O'Connell Wins.

Columbus, Sept. 13.—With a right to the jaw Charlie O'Connell, Cleveland, knocked out Eddie Shannon, Detroit lightweight, in the third round, after two minutes and twenty-five seconds of fighting.

Gibbons Wins.

Cincinnati, Sept. 13.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul, lightweight, outclassed "Wild Bill" Reed, war veteran of Arizona, in their scheduled ten-round bout at Redland field, last night. Reed swapped punches with Gibbons until flattened out after a minute and a half of milling in the second round when Reed's seconds threw in a sponge after Gibbons floored Reed with a left hook to the jaw. Reed arose at the count of seven and protested, but to no avail.

BASEBALL

Tackling the Braves.

The struggling Pittsburgh Pirates were the only performers on big-league time yesterday. They had a chance to creep up on the Giants, but failed to do so when they divided a twin bill with the Braves. Babe Adams saved the first game when he relieved Cooper and the Pirates won it in fifteen innings. The second went to the Braves, 4-3.

The Giants are leading Pittsburgh by eight points and the Yankees are twelve points in the van of the Cleveland Indians who are slated to start their last eastern tour in Philadelphia today, minus the services and influence of The Slaughter who is laid up with an injured knee.
